

Relax and hear My Heartbeat

I know you don't understand My ways fully, that is a given, any man that thinks he understands Me fully has fallen into delusion and is serving his own "god" not Me, so relax, regroup, breathe.

I am with you, to the end of time, never will you find one second from the day you were born until the stretches of eternity that I was not with you.

It is impossible for Me to abandon you for you are Mine and have been since I chose you before the beginning of time.

Lately you have been doubting My intentions ... Don't ... I know all, not you and you Will be happy with My outcome. Soon!

Take your eyes of the mistakes and failures of the past and your current frailties and fears and put them where they belong, pointed at Me.

I see all, know all and control all. Relax.

I saw that attack even before I made that angel that fell so why would I be surprised or caught off guard? (I see an image of laughing) Laugh with Me and you'll see it is not so bad as your dreading, in fact it will turn out quite good!

Relax, Breathe and Hear My Heartbeat...
