

Word - Remind yourself of Gods promises

My children should not forget what I have been saying to them, they should not forget My promises, dear child, many of your brothers and sisters in Christ are getting negative and despondent and tired and giving up even because they do not remind themselves nor remember what I promised to them so please tell My children this:

"My loved ones, please remind yourself of My promises, always write them down and re-read them aloud to Me - and yourselves - for I AM bringing My young ones into a season of fulfilled promises, do not give up now, new things are around the corner!!".
